

Health, Wellness, and Green Space

Get ready for NYC Public Schools next
Climate Action Day on Wednesday, April 9!

Climate action and wellness are connected by a common goal: healthy students and healthy school environments.

That's why on April 9, we're celebrating the theme of Health, Wellness, and Green Space. Schools will plan activities to promote outdoor learning, play, and caring for open green spaces.

Join with students across NYC to help keep our communities clean, green, and more resilient for future generations!
